What Kids Want in their Sunglasses

Protecting kids' eyes from harmful sun rays is crucial… and it can be loads of fun. Just take a look at these styles. Attention-grabbing colors and lots of them, including those hot adult sport glass colors, white and black; junior aviators and wraps for the "I want to be just like Daddy or Mommy" look; and protective glasses and polarized lenses for all those afterschool sports. Cool colors, great eye protection and a comfortable fit. That's what kids (and their parents) want.
