Revolution to Debut New True Religion Styles at VEW

Revolution has kept the commitment of True Religion, the popular design-based jean and jean related brand, to a perfect, comfortable fit for their new styles available at VEW. The eyewear collection portrays the same "Hippie, Bohemian-Chic-Flare with a Vintage-Feel-Vibe" that the brand's jeans emit, using the finest quality components. The collection has many shapes from modified ovals to aviator done in rich materials like zyl, leather wrapped and stitched temples, and an array of colors such as cocoa, golden bronze, olive and brown horn, to name a few. www.revolutioneyewear.com

Kaenon Introduces Women's Wishbone

Kaenon has introduced a new women's polarized sunglass, Wishbone, as part of celebrating their 10 year anniversary. The style, which features their proprietary polarized SR-91 lens, features a hexagonal lens and frame shape complimented by thinly sculpted temples. Moderately sized, the Wishbone is the first 6-base women's sunglass from Kaenon. The lightweight, feminine frame is crafted and hand painted in Italy and constructed of lightweight TR-90. Non-corrosive, custom hinges and metal inlayed icons maintain the frame's understated appeal. www.kaenon.com

Okia Unveils Lace Collection

A traditional hallmark of wedding dresses or veils, lace has recently become a popular fashion trend; which is why, according to the company, Okia has decided to put the pattern on eyewear. The intricate lace texture decorates the frame temples creating a refined look with a "vintage" touch, available in tones of black and blue. The lace pattern is achieved through the application of the company's patented HDA Technology. www.okia.com
