

October 30, 2008

New from Okia: Qoins

The story behind the Qoins collections began with vintage products: timeless objects that have witnessed the happy moments of preceding generations. Okia has taken their essence and texture and applied them to its frames.

The beauty of vintage inspired by the fertile Fifties, Sixties and Seventies, is skillfully integrated to create texture and retro shapes in a contemporary design unlike any other on today's market. This successful combination of research, creativity and technology led to the birth of a brand of frames for men.

The Signature collection is a clear reference to this legacy from the past. The frames are lightweight, versatile and integrate perfectly with the raw materials. The simplicity of the colors combined with technical details create a more classical, dynamic and exclusive look.

The Fashion collection pays special attention to personal needs. With its attention to detail, the line comes in a wider selection of colors and models that are suitable for all personalities.

Collection simplicity is a precise decision by the designer. The strong points of the Design line are attention to detail, practicality and shapes that enhance functionality: flexible temples in lightweight materials ensure perfect fit and total comfort.

www.eyesway.com
